ARMIES OF TWO STATES JOINED

NATIONAL GUARD OF MICHIGAN, WISCONSIN FORM DIVISION; STEWART COMMANDS.

By Harry C. Lear.

For the first time in the history of the state the Michigan National Guard is organized into a division with the national guard of Wisconsin and is functioning as such, although Brigadier General Earl R. Stewart, acting division commander, has not received his promotion to a major generalship formally and has not been assigned as acting commander. It is expected that within a week or ten days the Thirty-second division will have been completely organized, General Stewart will have been promoted and assigned and the organization will be functioning as effectively as it did during the World war.

Colonel William B. Wallace, U. S. A., detailed as senior instructor of the Michigan National Guard, has been assigned as chief of staff of the Thirty-second division by General Stewart and has assumed the duties of that office. General Stewart's personal staff consists of First Lieutenant E. A. Kahler, infantry, and First Lieutenant Wilfred S. Towar, infantry, detailed as aides; Lieutenant-Colonel Le Roy Pearson, general staff (Q. M. C.), as assistant chief of staff G-4 and acting division adjutant; Lieutenant-Colonel Samuel D. Pepper, division judge advocate; Major James Sinko, assistant chief of staff, G-1; Major Osmond H. Towar, (Q. M. C.), division finance officer; Major Harry E. Loomis, division ordnance officer; Captain Ray E. Cotton (Q. M. C.), assistant to the division quartermaster and quartermaster Michigan contingent Thirty-second division. Other members of the staff will be announced later. The Wilson to Command Brigade.

As soon as General Stewart receives

Men's Watches Have Changed

You have observed it among business and social acquaintances. The up-to-date, successful men have thinner, handsomer, more convenient watches than yours. Many are not the old round shape, and practically all have fancy dials.

It would be decidedly advantageous to you in every way to carry a modern watch. You can get one for no more—very likely less—than you pay for a good suit of clothes.

Come look over the new watches.

The team won nine out of fourteen games, and scored a total of 600 points against their opponents 120. An average of 20 points was scored a game, while the team held their opponents to fourteen. This season is considered the most successful of recent years. The players, coach, and support of the people are credited for the good showing.

Base Ball gets the next call in G. H. S. sports. A few of the anxious ones have been lumbering up in the gymnasium, but most of them are waiting for the green grass diamonds to show their wares. Two new men are needed at first base and behind the bat, respectively. It is hoped that many candidates will be out for these positions.

Emerson Brown has been named on the second all-state class "C" basketball team.

The last number of the Lyceum Course was given in the high school auditorium last Wednesday evening, April 4th. It was well worth the price of admission.

The last Friday afternoon program was well attended by many of the town people as well as the school children. The play was presented by the Junior class and was well planned and gave the audience a full hour and a half of entertainment. The play presented was "The Professor's Magic". The professor was a magician, who changed his subjects into any form of humanity they wished. The play was a semi-comic and several local hits were scored as well.

his promotion and assumes the active command of the Thirty-second division. Colonel Guy M. Wilson, new commanding officer of the 125th infantry regiment, several units of which are located in Detroit, will be promoted to brigadier general and assigned as commanding officer of the Sixty-third infantry in the organized reserve. Lieutenant-Colonel Milton L. Hinkley will be promoted to colonel and assigned to command the 125th infantry. The promotions of General Stewart, Colonel Wilson and Lieutenant-Colonel Hinkley will necessitate other promotions in the 125th, as there will be vacancies all along the line from lieutenant colonel down to second lieutenant.

This year will be the first time the Michigan National Guard has ever had a division headquarters as a part of its annual summer encampment. Plans were made at last summer's camp for a divisional headquarters at the camp near Grayling. The Sixty-third infantry brigade headquarters will be in its accustomed place south of the regimental headquarters, and the division headquarters will be on a hill south-east of the brigade headquarters.

Work already has been started and by the time the troops arrive in camp in August everything will be in readiness. The underbrush is being cleared away and the division headquarters will be one of the beauty spots of the camp, overlooking the entire camp grounds and Portage lake.—Detroit Free Press.

Among those that took part in it were:

Donald Reynolds—The Professor.
Francena Corwin—A singer.
Edgar Douglas—A joker.
Nyland Houghton—A girl.
Finley Kingensmith—A whistler.
Kurt Harrington—A blond with ornate ideas.

Beulah Cullen—The mistaken brunette.

Lyving Kendrick and Lil'an Ziebell—Two farmers.

Farnham Matson and Lipman Landsberg—Two flirts.

James Richardson—A mistaken lawyer.

Marcella Sullivan—A fortune teller.

Herman Hansen—As Charlie Chaplin.

Ivela Sherman—The man.

Helen Prehn—Pianist.

We are very proud to boast of something that has recently been added to our school entertainment program, our new Motion Picture machine that has been donated to our school by the Goodfellowship Club. The screen of the daylight type was also donated to us. The machine is a portable one and shows excellent as the test proved Monday night; it has a 400 watt light. The machine is very serviceable, and will be used as an educational proposition; the films are distributed by different institutes for a small charge. We shall receive a shipment of scenes from the Canadian Pacific soon, showing to us the beautiful scenery of that Great Path. We take pleasure in presenting to you a show Thursday night, which will be of charge entitled, "Rip Van Winkle." This is an educational play which is evident by the name and you cannot afford to miss this number. Here is a list of the plays that we will show in the future—

Elaborate plans are being made for the French banquet to be held in the school house on April 20. The banquet itself will consist of food cooked in French style and will be served by French waitresses. The toasts will be given in French and all conversation during the evening will be carried on in that language. The tri-color which belongs to France as well as to the U. S. will be used very effectively in the decorations.

JURY FINDS SHORT GUILTY

GORLET CASE CONTINUED TO NEXT TERM.

Sentence Deferred on McLeod. Must Pay $12 Weekly to Support Child.

Circuit court closed here this forenoon after the disposing of the cases on the calendar. In the arraignment, James G. Gorlet, charged with violation of the liquor law, stood mute and was committed to jail. In the case against Peter J. Smith, the defendant stood mute and upon motion of his counsel the case was continued to the July term of court. He is charged with violation of the prohibition law. Kenneth Peterson, charged with desertion, and Earl Barber, charged with carrying concealed weapons, each entered plea of guilty.

Earl Barber, charged with carrying concealed weapons, each entered plea of guilty.

Barber was tried before a jury, Attorney Ross of West Branch acting as his attorney. He was arrested on February 1st by Sheriff Jorgenson for setting and having in his possession prohibited weapons. He came into town on the Jorgenson train from L'Angeles and at once proceeded to the depot where he set his suitcase down in the office. Sheriff Jorgenson had been on the lookout for him and followed him to the depot. Short did not know his new sheriff and did not suspect that he was being followed. The sheriff kept the suitcase in sight while Short went into the pool room adjoining. Later when he came out Sheriff Jorgenson asked him if that was his suitcase and he replied that it was not. However he was placed under arrest and later when the suitcase was examined it was found to contain three two quart jars of moonshine whiskey. These were confiscated and sealed and placed in the presence of Prosecuting Attorney Fitch, Ralph Hanna and L. A. Gardner, after taking out about a pint that was sent by express to the State chemist at Lansing.

The defendant tried to prove an alibi by producing another suitcase in court that looked almost exactly like the one the sheriff had taken. The jury, however, did not intend to be deceived in the matter and took the testimony of the several well known respected citizens in preference to that of the defendant. After a brief deliberation the jury returned a verdict of guilty.

Short was sentenced to pay a fine of $400 and $50 court costs, and in default of payment of such fine and costs, to serve six months in Ionia prison. Short is trying to raise the funds with which to pay up, which as yet have not been forthcoming.

McLeod appeared in court this morning for sentence. It appears that he had contributed but little toward the support of his wife and child. There seemed to be a question as to whether or not he could furnish bonds of $1,000 guaranteeing the payment of $12 a week toward the support of his child. Judge Smith said he was reluctant to send him to prison, and asked the prosecuting attorney if he had anything to say. Mr. Fitch said that outside of the defendant having been arrested for non-support in justice court and now in the circuit court and also for having been arrested for law community and in case a prison sentence be imposed he urged the clemency of the court. Judge Smith said he had been considerably perplexed over the case but concluded he would withhold sentence and that McLeod be held under the present bonds until the next term of circuit court and that during that time he should pay $12 each week toward the support of his child.

Earl Barber, charged with carrying weapons was released under $100 bonds to keep the peace for one year. A decree was granted for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon for the year of 1920 and previous years.

All other cases on the calendar were continued to the next term of court, except two cases, those of John Morrissey vs. Julia LaVenture, petition to modify decree, and Peter Reuter vs. Bruno Weber, assumption, which were both dismissed without costs. The members of the jury draw for this panel of the court were as follows: Thomas Trudeau, Jess Schoonover, Anthony Nelson, Paul Ziebell, Harold Rasmussen, Peter L. Brown, Daisy Kraus, Carl W. Johnson, Thomas Cassidy, Elsie Roblin, C. W. Olsen, Flora Clark, Daniel Hoesli, Harry Ketchum, Minnie C. Roberts, all of Grayling; John Moon of Beaver Creek, Archie Howse, Sr., W. G. Feldhauser, Conrad Howse, Peter Hinkley, all of Maple Forest; John B. Redhead, Oscar C. Rodden, Lester J. Royce, Orlo Shreve all of South Branch.

MY CITY AND I.

"My city is where my home is founded, where my business is situated, where my vote is cast, where my children are educated, where my neighbors dwell and where my life is chiefly lived. It has a right to my civic loyalty. It supports me, and I support it. My city wants my friendship, my partisanship, cooperation, not dissent; sympathy, not criticism; intelligent support, not indifference. My city supplies me with law and order, trade, friends, education, recreation, and the rights of a free-born American. I should believe in my city and work for it."—Selected.

MAYOR APPOINTS VILLAGE OFFICERS

AL CRIPPS FOR NIGHT MARSHAL. LEADS FIELD OF 9.

There is always more or less speculation as to who will be appointed to fill the appointive offices in the village, and Monday night's session was no exception.

The village officers were appointed by the mayor. There were nine appointments, and it was a very interesting session. In fact there was no such thing as a free lunch. The mayor, Al Cripps, was almost in despair over the matter before he could make up his mind who to appoint. Mr. Cripps was a candidate for appointment when a vacancy occurred by the removal of Mike Brenner, and it was only after twenty ballots that one of the Cripps supporters prevailed and an appointment went to Peter L. Brown.

This time Mayor Canfield handled the matter differently and made the appointments without recommendation of the council, when appointments were duly ratified by the trustees. Following is a list of the appointments for night marshal: Al Cripps, Wm. H. Coby, Nick Neason, Peter L. Brown, John B. Singerman, Jerry Sherman, Joe Giltner, Charles Ceur and Bert Mitchell.

Following is a list of the remaining appointments:

Anthony J. Nelson for Fire Chief and Warden.
Julius Nelson, street commissioner.
Carl Jensen, health officer.

At this time James W. Sorenson was appointed to fill the office of Assessor, the office being declared vacant, Walmer Jorgenson was elected to fill same, being absent from the city and having not qualified to fill the office.

The official proceedings of the Council appears elsewhere in this issue of the AVALANCHE.

While there are many disappointments over the fact that everyone's favorite candidate for night marshal could not be appointed, the fact remains that Mr. Cripps is going to serve. In fact he qualified Tuesday and began work that night.

He is frank in his statements that he hopes and intends to do everything in his power to be a good officer; to keep order in our community and to keep an ever watchful eye toward the protection of property from fires and from thieves. "The Mayor may dismiss me whenever he may be satisfied that I am not satisfactorily doing my duty," says Mr. Cripps, "and I want him to do so."

Certainly that looks like business and we have every confidence that we are going to have a night marshal that means business and will exercise his authority with good judgment and fidelity.

H. PETERSEN BUYS SIMPSON GROCERY

LATTER TO REDUCE STOCK BEFORE SALE IS CLOSED.

It has been felt that there have been too many grocery stores in Grayling for the size of the town. A consolidation of The Simpson Company and the Hans Petersen groceries have been made possible thru the efforts of the Board of Trade. Mr. Petersen will take over the stock of The Simpson Company within a week or so.

In the mean time The Simpson company is slashing prices with the idea of greatly reducing their stock so that when the Petersen stock is added the store won't be too heavily over loaded. The Petersen store will be closed until such time that a suitable tenant may be had, which however shall not be such that will add a line of business that is already well established here.

The Simpson store has long had a reputation of being one of the finest grocery stores anywhere in this part of Michigan. Harry Simpson, the manager, has, by his splendid merchandising ability and his enterprise built up a fine trade. This store was originally established by Walmer Jorgenson who about ten years ago sold out to Milton Simpson, who then was manager of the Salling Hanson company stores. This was conducted by Mr. Simpson until his death which occurred about ten years ago. Since then it has been known as The Simpson company, with Harry Simpson, son, as the manager.

Mr. Petersen entered the grocery business where his store is now located about 18 years ago. He too has always enjoyed a fine patronage. He is always courteous and obliging and has a reputation of always wanting his customers to get just a little more than they bargain for. With the improvement in the location and Mr. Petersen's ability to hold patronage and make friends there can be no doubt of the success of this new venture.

When asked what he intends to do, Mr. Simpson says that he has no plans except to keep on selling Studebaker cars and going fishing. We are sure both these gentlemen will have the well wishes of their many friends.

GOOD FELLOWSHIP CLUB GIVES PICTURE MACHINE

TO BE FORMALLY RECEIVED BY SCHOOL TONIGHT.

To Celebrate Event Will Present Rip Van Winkle Free.

The Grayling school will be enriched by the possession of a real motion picture machine when the ladies of the Goodfellowship club present the school with a first class machine, the presentation of which will be formally made tonight, and the event celebrated by the presenting of the seven reel feature Rip Van Winkle.

For the past year the members of this club have been working to secure such a motion picture machine as the school and the people of this community might feel proud to own. This machine is of the portable type and one of the best that is made. It has been tried out and found to be first class. In addition to the machine the ladies supplies a gold screen, thus making the outfit complete for use. It is a very generous gift costing $310 and one that will be appreciated by the school pupils and others as well. It will make it possible to show the educational type of pictures as are being presented in many of the leading educational institutions of the country, and also such other features as the school management may desire.

The gift is made outright with only two restrictions and those are that the machine shall not be taken out of the building and also not be commercialized except for school and other entertainments may not be given for outside organizations, for the purpose of raising money. It is intended to supplement the school work.

Not only have the active members of the Goodfellowship club been interested in putting this splendid project across, but honorary and ex-members of the club have given financial aid which has helped very materially. The following ladies, all of whom at some time have been members of this organization and given liberally of their time and talents are special subscribers to the gift: Mrs. Tillie Bauman, Grayling, Mrs. Bessie Hartwick, Ann Arbor, Mrs. Julia Fournier, Los Angeles, Mrs. Mollie Michelson, Mrs. Bessie Michelson, Mrs. Florence Warren, Mrs. Emma Wescott, Mrs. Alice Benkleman, Detroit, Mrs. Bertha Hanson, Mrs. Lillian Hanson, Grayling.

For good measure, and to add interest to the occasion of the formal presentation of the machine to the school, the ladies have secured "Rip Van Winkle," a seven reel feature, which will be presented free of charge. This feature costs $20.00 and will be a splendid attraction. This will be free to everyone and all are invited to attend. The program will be held in the auditorium.

BOARD OF TRADE TO CELEBRATE "BOB'S NIGHT."

About a month ago each one of the members of the Board of Trade was asked to bring in a new member. Many of them did and a few did not, but it remained for Robert H. Gillett to cop the championship. He turned in a half dozen applications and a few days later a few more and finally he reached a dozen. He didn't stop there but soon run the list up to 20. It wasn't long after that before he doubled this record and made it forty. Then he placed fifty as his goal, but that mark has long since been passed and at last reports he had turned in 59 bonafide applications. Many of these were from business men, costing $15 per year, while others were from men working on salaries where membership fee is but $5 per year. It is a great record and "Bob" is recognized as a regular wizard in setting members. There will be a smoker next Monday night, held expressly in honor of the new members, and the occasion will be known as "Bob's Night." It is desired that every member be present and help make this a rousing good meeting.

MUSIC MEMORY CONTEST TO CLOSE NEXT WEEK.

Examination Will be Held and Prizes Awarded.

The music memory contest that is being conducted in the public schools,
will close next week. During the contest the contestants have studied classical selections and the life of the composers.

It has been a very interesting contest to many of the pupils and has been the means of inspiring better taste in music. These lessons and short synopsis of the selections and composers have been published each week in the AVALANCHE, which sketches were cut out and saved by most of the contestants, giving them

material records from which to learn the subjects. There is a lot of rivalry for the honors and the boys and girls who win honors are not only prized prizes but also, what will be more important, will have a knowledge of the finer arts in music.

Following are the prizes that have been offered:

Board of Education—$25.
Mrs. B. E. Smith—$5.
Goodfellowship Club—$5.
Womans Club—2 books on the Opera.

C. W. Olsen—4 Victor Records.
Olaf Sorenson & Sons—Music case.
The list of winners will be announced in the AVALANCHE just as soon as the results are determined.

Seven Points of Supremacy

1. The sole leather used in "FOOT-FITTERS" is of the best quality obtainable. Even the insoles are cut from standard outside leather.
2. "FOOT-FITTERS" are the only shoes in the world having full length ramps and sole leather box toes. This feature prevents ripping at the tip and makes a smooth outer and inner surface.
3. The insoles are shoulder channelled so that they fit tightly against the outside. There is no need or room for a cork filler. A small piece of duck is used to prevent squeaking.
4. The calf skin inside counter pocket is of great value, for it saves the wear on the socks. There is no rough surface to rub against.
5. "FOOT-FITTERS" heels are 4-inch longer than generally used. They give additional support to the arch and increase the comfort and wear of the shoe.
6. The vamp is reinforced with 8-oz. duck. This absorbs the moisture from the foot. This keeps the vamp from cracking and holds the shoe in shape.
7. Edmonds' "FOOT-FITTER" shoes are called "FOOT-FITTERS" because they fit the foot snugly. Built on combination lasts they support the foot like a doctor's bandage. "FOOT-FITTERS" give comfort, service and appearance.

T. HANSON HEADS NEW LUMBER CO.

TAKES OVER S. H. CO. PLANING MILL.

Will Add Wholesale and Retail Lumber Yards.

At a meeting of the directors of the Selling Hanson Co. held at their office Wednesday afternoon, the sale of the planing mill to T. W. Hanson was approved and confirmed. Mr. Hanson takes immediate possession of the property and the same will be operated under the firm name of T. W. Hanson Lumber Company.

Besides operating the planing mill
department they will do a general
wholesale and retail lumber business.
The retail department will be enlarged
and will include the handling of lime,
brick, cement, sash, doors, windows
and in fact everything pertaining to the builders needs.

Mr. Hanson hopes to have the new enterprise in operation soon after May 1st and is planning on operating the plant continuously the year around.
When running to capacity he says that he will require about 25 to 30 men,
which will add materially to the town
payroll, and bring many dollars to Grayling.

The construction of an office building will be begun at once. Business for the firm, Mr. Hanson says looks exceptionally bright. They will be able to consume all the soft woods,
such as pines, norway, basswood, etc.,
that the local mills can manufacture
and says that it will also be necessary to import much of such timber from outside firms.

With the addition of this new enterprise builders will now be able to have their orders filled with everything they may need in the building material line, which will be a great convenience to the people of this community and near-by towns.

WHAT AVERAGE BUSINESS MAN NEEDS IN EDUCATION.

An unusually interesting program
was conducted at the Board of Trade luncheon at Shoppenagon Inn this noon. The program was in charge of Supt. B. E. Smith who explained that it was the plan of educators to try and determine just what the average business man needs in his business in the line of the fundamental subjects such as arithmetic, penmanship, etc.

Test problems in arithmetic and multiplication were submitted and everyone worked hard to see just how many they could solve in a given time. These test sheets were re-gathered and will be averaged up. Mr.
Smith says that in this way a better understanding of what business men
may require with which to conduct their affairs. Similar tests are being applied before similar bodies of business men throughout the United States and, according to Mr. Smith, will aid materially in educational work.

Also short and inspiring talks were made by Mr. Reedy of the safety-first department of the Michigan Central railroad, Mr. Leonhardt of the Agricultural department of the same company; E. J. Cornwell of Saginaw. Forty one were in attendance at the luncheon.

Sven Brendt, formerly manager of the retail store of the Johannesburg
Mfg. Co., is now associated with Mr.
Frank L. Michelson and is engaged in the retail lumber business in Detroit, with the Judson Lumber Co.

Emerson Brown is again made happy when he was notified by the athletic authorities that he had been selected one of the forwards of the second all-star basketball team. A badge of maize and blue accompanied the information and is much prized by the winner and his friends.

LEWISTON LADY LAID TO REST.

The remains of Mrs. James Taitt were brought to Grayling from Lewiston, Saturday, and that night accompanied by relatives taken to her home
in Bay City for burial. Mrs. Taitt with her daughter Miss Helen went to Lewiston early last fall the former going to try and recuperate her health.
Besides Miss Helen, a daughter Mrs.
William Raimy and a son Ray of Hammond, Indiana, survive. Mrs.
Taitt was the wife of the late James Taitt, a well known M. C. railroad engineer on the Mackinaw division who passed away a few years ago. Mr.
and Mrs. Adam Gierke, old friends of the family were in attendance at the funeral which was held Tuesday in Bay City.

OTHERS IN THAT CLASS, TOO.

The editor of a country paper, recently reported that he had received a news item from one of his main painstaking correspondents. The item read to the effect that a bride in the neighborhood had excited considerable comment among neighbors by kneading bread with her gloves on.

The editor, seizing upon the opportunity presented, used the item in his paper, adding as an appendix, "The editor of this paper needs bread with his shoes on, he also needs it with his clothes on, but if some of the delinquent subscribers don't pay up pretty soon, he will need bread without a darn thing on."

RIGHT BACK AT HIM.

A very economic man in Iowa wrote
to a manufacturer of a patent medicine which sold for one dollar. He said:

"Please send me a bottle of your nerve medicine, for which I enclose one dollar."

"P. S.—I have forgotten to enclose the dollar, but no doubt a firm of your standing will send it anyhow."

He received this reply:
"We beg to acknowledge your esteemed order and have pleasure in sending you a bottle of our nerve tonic—which we trust will help you."

"P. S.—We have forgotten to send the medicine, but no doubt a fellow with your nerve does not need it."

FIRES DESTROY 6,000 ACRES

Flames Sweeping Indian Lands in North Carolina Checked.

Asheville, N. C.—Forest fires in Swain and Jackson counties on the Cherokee Indian reservation burned more than 6,000 acres before being brought under control, according to reports to forest service officials here.

A force of 60 men have been fighting the fires constantly since their discovery a few days ago, the reports stated. Indians on the reservation aided the fire fighters in bringing the flames under control.

Carried along on a stiff wind, the flames had gained great headway in the inaccessible mountain regions before they were discovered, forest officials said.

The fires are believed to have been started by sparks from bush fires being burned on new cleared ground.
No loss of life has been reported.

FACE DEATH IN FOREST FIRE

Two Hundred Cottages in Dodge Park
Periled—Ten Men Trapped.

Walled Lake—Two hundred cottages in Dodge park were threatened with destruction and 10 men trapped
in a pocket surrounded by flames.
Walled Lake fire department, with rescue from death in a stubborn forest fire that swept 150 acres of Dodge park, defying the efforts of 100 volunteer fire fighters from Walled Lake, for five hours.

The blaze started from sparks from a Pore Marquette engine lighting in a dry field. The Walled Lake fire department responded, but was hampered by not having sufficient apparatus. Fire fighters were quickly recruited and rushed to the scene in automobiles.

Chief Robert Carnes, of the Walled Lake fire department, with nine other men he was directing, was completely surrounded by the flames.

LOCK OF RUHR CANAL BOMBED

WATER TRAFFIC IS BLOCKED BY SABOTAGE—SYSTEM
PERILED

FRENCH AND BRITISH IN DICKER

Buffer State Likely To Be Established—Ruthless Ejections Charged at Euren.

Essen—The explosion of a time
bomb destroyed the lock of the Dortmund-Ems Canal near Herne. The canal was blocked, seriously interfering with the complicated inland waterway traffic in the Ruhr.

This is the most serious case of sabotage yet reported on the Ruhr waterways. The lock that was destroyed is near the junction of the Dortmund-Ems canal with the main canal that runs down to the Rhine at Dutsburg and Ruhrort, where the largest inland port in the world is located.

The intention of the dynamiters
apparently was not only to block the canal but drain the water from the main Rhine-Herne canal which is the main waterway artery of the Ruhr.

The French say this main canal has not been interfered with, as the locks on both sides of the one which was dynamited, were closed immediately after the explosion to prevent the draining of them.

Ruthless Ejection Charged.

Frankfort-on Main—French Spah (Algerian) troops ejected 106 families within ten minutes from their dwellings in the German railwaymen's colony at Euren, near Treves, according to reports from German quarters.
The Germans claim the evictions were carried out with unusual ruthlessness, the troops going about with their rifles and sabres ready for action and often striking or shoving
the inhabitants in order to accelerate the evacuation of the buildings.

London—It was reported in German circles that Louis Loucheur told Premier A. Bonar Law that, if Great Britain would consent to the establishing of a buffer state in the Rhine land, France would accept the British reparations proposals rejected during the Allied conference in Paris
during February.

Two Killed at Memel.

Berlin—Two persons were shot to death and three others wounded by Lithuanian soldiers at Memel, during an outbreak of disorders in that city,
said a dispatch from Koenigsberg.

A tense situation exists with the Germans and Poles opposing the Lithuanian administration of the city.

RUHR PEACE TERMS ANNOUNCED

France and Belgium Agree On Details of Evacuation.

Paris—The terms which the French and Belgian governments hold at Germany's disposition, it has been announced, are as follows:

1. So long as the German resistance continues the continental allies will continue in full occupation; will blockade the Ruhr and the Rhineland and will accept no mediation and open no negotiations except openly and officially with the German government itself.
2. If the resistance is interrupted the blockade will be relaxed, but the occupation will be continued.
3. When Germany is ready to cooperate with the powers' specialists
for the resumption and development of reparations payments the powers
will progressively evacuate the Ruhr.
4. France's minimum reparations terms are still those of the January
allied conference, namely, for France alone, regardless of what the other allies now claim, 26,000,000,000 gold marks in A and B or interest-bearing bonds, plus enough C, non-interest-bearing bonds, to compensate the French debt to Great Britain and the United States.
5. Finally, before France and Belgium evacuate the entire Rhineland
they will insist on the permanent neutralization of this region.

MINIMUM WAGE LAW INVALID

Supreme Court Rules Against Act to Fix Pay of Workers.

Washington—The minimum wage law, by which congress sought to regulate the minimum wages to be paid
women and minor girls in the district of Columbia, was declared unconstitutional Monday by the supreme court.

The constitutionality of the District of Columbia law has been attacked on the ground that it abridged the freedom of contract for personal services, and therefore was beyond legislative discretion. It was defended
as a police regulation to promote public health and the safety, morals and welfare of the people. The court of appeals, after once sustaining the law
had ordered a rehearing, and then reversed itself.

Monday's decision was made by a divided bench, with Chief Justice Taft and Justices Sanford and Holmes dissenting, and Justices Brandeis taking no part in the proceedings.

ICE GORGES CAUSE FLOOD

MISSOURI RIVER RISE DOES
MUCH DAMAGE TO WEST-ERN CITIES.

HUNDREDS ARE MADE HOMELESS

Special Signals to Warn Employees and Residents Along River Front
When Danger Point is Reached.

Omaha, Neb.—With reports arriving that the swollen Missouri river is rising as new ice gorges form in the river around Homer, Neb., Omaha industries and residents along the river front here were laying plans for an immediate evacuation.

A special steam whistle signal has been arranged by the Western Smelting and Refining Co. to warn employees of other firms located along the river front that the danger point has been reached.

At the sounding of the signal all employees have been warned to leave their work and seek higher points.

The river will rise higher suddenly,
if it does at all, it was said.

Thousands of hogs were killed in the lowlands between Homer and Dakota City, Neb.

Hundreds Homeless

Sioux City, Ia.—Hundreds of residents of the bottom lands of Sioux City and the farming country surrounding are homeless, driven from their places of abode by Missouri river ice gorge floods. Three lives are reported lost.

More than 5,000 farmers on the Nebraska and Iowa shores of the Missouri have left their homes, driving their stock to the highlands where they are camping until the flood recedes.

Waters are backing up on the town of Vermillion, South Dakota, as the result of a gorge in the Missouri
a few miles below the city.

Damage to farm property in Iowa
alone is estimated at $5,000,000.

Lincoln, Neb.—A dispatch from Blair, Neb., last Saturday reported that the huge ice gorge which made many families homeless and flooded much valuable farming lands in Iowa and Nebraska, broke with a loud detonation and swept down the Missouri river.

PERSONAL TAX IN STATE ASKED

Individual To Be Responsible for Filing His Return.

Lansing—Compulsory listing of personal property by the owner, is called for in the bill introduced in the house of representatives, by Representative
Howard E. Baxter, of Grand Rapids.

It is one of the most important tax
measures introduced this session, seeking as it does to transfer from the assessing officer to the individual assessed, the responsibility for making the return.

Under the present law, the taxpayer is required to make his disclosure only on demand of the assessing officer.

The Baxter bill would require this disclosure to be sent to the assessing officer, and would penalize negligence in so doing or falsifying of the return.

Ohio and Indiana have incorpo-

the taxpayer.

PIUTE UPRISING IS SQUELCHED

General Round-Up of Tribe Has Been Effected—Chief Wounded.

Mouticello, Utah — Desperately
wounded in the leg, "Old Posey," leader of Utah's latest and probably last Indian uprising, was hiding in the rocks with Bishop's oldest boy as the sole remnant of his little band that defied the "pale face" law, and fled with two prisoners convicted in the San Juan county court.

A general round-up of the Piute tribe has been put into effect. Reports from Bluff stated 20 squaws
and papooses had been captured and sent in there.

They include Posey's little boy,
two of Bishop's boys, Old Posey's brother, and Sanup's little boy. The latter is one of the two men convicted in court, and whose escape was the start of the trouble.

Forty members of the tribe are in the stockade at Blanding, and the five captured in battle are en route
there.

The federal government is investigating affairs through the United States marshal from Salt Lake and the Indian agent from Ignazio.

Michigan Happenings

Crawling on his hands and knees, with a water-soaked towel over his face, Boyd Blackall, of Grand Rapids, 16 years old, last week, rescued Leonard Van Singel, 4 years old, when the child was lost in the smoke-filled home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Van Singel. Blackall called by Leonard's small brothers, when they discovered their home had caught fire during their parents' absence, crept through three rooms before he found the unconscious child under a bed. He dragged him toward the door, but was overcome himself.

The investigating committee of the legislature arrived in Saginaw, last week, and began its probe of child labor conditions in the sugar beet fields in Saginaw and the Thumb. The commission is composed of Senators John W. Smith, Port Huron, and Godfred Gettel, Sebawing, and Representatives Ray L. Hewitt, Jackson; Charles H. Culver, Detroit, and William C. Stanson, Caro. The investigation is believed to have strong support of the sugar beet industry.

The big runaway balloon, which broke away from two Army officers at piano, Ill., last week, after they had descended to make repairs, dropped into Lake Michigan two miles off shore from Whitehall. The bag was towed to shore by the White Lake Coast Guards and a fishing tug. The balloon started on a trial trip from Belleville, Ill., in charge of Maj. Rush B. Lincoln and Maj. J. D. Reardon.

A sweeping investigation by the county supervisors of Flint into the lowering of the water last week in Thread lake many feet, with the result that thousands of fish perished under the ice, was predicted by the State conservation commission. The lake has been used as propagation spot or breeding ground for many kinds of fish, including pike, black bass, blue gills and perch.

Zelon Lake, of Jackson, whose death occurred suddenly in Jonesville, Hillsdale County, last December, two hours after a dinner party at the home of Mrs. Lee McCarty, and whose body was exhumed at Marquette last month to allow a State chemist to analyze the stomach, died of poisoning, according to the chemist's analysis, G. M. Markie, coroner, announced last week.

Thomas Badger, of St. Joseph, convicted last month in circuit court of murdering Willie J. Handy, wealthy Benton Harbor potato dealer, was sentenced to life imprisonment in the Marquette penitentiary, last week by Judge Charles E. White. The murdered man's body was found in the St. Joseph river, with a 40-pound stone tied to one ankle by a length of fishing twine.

An embargo on all freight not originating on the Michigan division of the Pennsylvania lines was ordered for the territory between Grand Rapids and Mackinac City. Because of assimilation of freight at all points, due to storms, Railroad men reported sidings at all points between Mackinac City and Grand Rapids are clogged with freight.

The breeders of Duroc Jersey hogs of Calhoun county met at the county farm bureau office at Marshall last week and completed an organization for educational and breeding purposes and for sales of the rough bred stock. L. H. Houseman, Albion, was elected president; Alexander Brown, Homer, vice-president; George N. Stark, Burlington, secretary.

Falling across a 25-year-old buzz saw, Lloyd Yeomans, 35 years old, met death last week at the farm home of Bert Taylor, two miles southeast of Mendon. The accident occurred as the men were quitting work for the day. Yeomans was trying to remove the belt from the saw when he slipped on the moist ground and fell.

Brushed from a freight, on which he was stealing a ride, and crushed beneath its wheel, Ellsworth Strubel, 9-year-old son of Albert Strubel, of Cornuna, was killed instantly, last week. Three other lads escaped injury.

Carl Glick, of Albion, lost the sight of his right eye last week when hit by a small splinter of stone. He was breaking a large boulder when the accident occurred.

Archibald F. Bunting, former member of the State Legislature at Lansing, died last week at the Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit, after a lingering illness.

Newman Erb, president of the Ann Arbor railway, who was in Flint, last week, stated his road would enter that city. The new line will be part of a great system for the more rapid movement of eastern tonnage to the west, Mr. Erb said.

Ass H. Wright, 92 years old, Port Huron's oldest active business man, dropped dead on his way to his office last week. Mr. Wright had been a manufacturer of Wagons here since 1864.

Mrs. Peter P. Stair, of Detroit, President Paul Voelker, of Olivet college, and several state Sunday school officials were speakers at the fortieth annual conference of Ingham county Sunday schools held at Dansville, last week.

Blas Penzer, who recently arrived in this country from Croatia, was instantly killed, and Mr. and Mrs. Matt Funek, of Battle Creek, seriously injured last week, when Funek's car was forced into a ditch three miles east of Kalamazoo.

Strict compliance with State and Federal laws regulating the percentage of butter fat for various kinds of cream will be required by the Bureau of Dairying of the State Department of Agriculture, T. H. Broughton, director of the Bureau of Dairying, stated last week. Tests made by representatives of the department showed that coffee cream sold in Michigan ranged from 5 to 30 per cent butter fat, while whipping cream was found to vary from 10 to 50 per cent, according to Broughton. The standard for coffee cream set by the State law is 18 per cent.

Officers and directors of the Michigan Potato Producers' Association, meeting at Petoskey with experts in the potato production and sales departments of the Michigan Agricultural College, representatives of the Michigan Bureau of Markets and officers of the Michigan Potato Growers' Exchange, have worked out a marketing system for Michigan grown certified seed potatoes. The rules governing the certifying of seed potatoes were tightened considerably which will bring the seed product up to the highest standard.

The legislature is to have an opportunity to pass judgment on the bill introduced by Representative Robert B. MacDonald, of Houghton, to make the automobile license fee exacted of northern Michigan motorists commensurate with the length of the automobile season. The bill re-opens an old question as to whether the state can in fairness collect the full license fee from a motorist who cannot use his car during the winter months because of the snowdrifts.

George T. Campbell, president and general manager of the Argus-Press Publishing Co., past grand commander of the Grand Commandery, Knights Templar of Michigan, and grand warden of the Grand Encampment Knights Templar of the United States, died at his home at Owosso last week. Mr. Campbell suffered a stroke of paralysis Saturday morning three days after returning from Florida where he spent the winter.

Miss Sadie Harwick, of Detroit, senior literary student, was elected historian of the graduating class of the University of Michigan at the senior meeting last week. Merry Wagner, of Ionia, was elected class poet over Douglas Roby and William Van Orden, popular athletes. Paul Watzel, of Lansing, was elected class prophet and Ross McFarland, of Ypsilanti, class orator.

Paul A. Martin, of Battle Creek, former commander of the Michigan Department, American Legion, has been urged as a successor to Rep. J. M. C. Smith, of Charlotte, who died last week. It is expected that Gov. Grosbeck will either appoint a successor to Mr. Smith before the opening of the next session of Congress, or call a special election in the Third District.

Robert Griffin, engineer on a Grand Trunk train, gave his life to save C. W. Barringer, a truck driver who crossed the track in front of Griffin's train, according to the verdict of a coroner's jury at Edwardsburg last week. Griffin stopped his train so quickly that he locomotive buckled, knocking him under it.

Leaders of boys' and girls' clubs from Detroit, Bay City, Grand Rapids and Ann Arbor, as well as county agents of this work from various districts in the eastern part of the state, met at Michigan Agricultural college, last week, for a conference. Miss Barbara Helen, M. A. C., was in charge of the conference.

His skull terribly crushed, Ross Chamberlain, 38 years old, farmer of Waterford township, died from injuries suffered last week when a team ran away while he was at work. Chamberlain was thrown in the path of a manure spreading machine, he was using.

Teachers from all sections of Michigan returned to their homes last week from the annual convention of the Michigan School Masters' club at Ann Arbor. Miss Lilla M. Fyan, grade principal of Eastern high school, Detroit, was elected president.

Mrs. Sarah Hall, 73 years old, the oldest teacher in active service in Kalamazoo, was returning from a store when she walked around the lowered crossing gates, directly in front of a locomotive.

Flint has been selected as the 1924 meeting place of the Michigan State Dental association. Dr. J. H. Taylor, of Flint, is president of the association.

Kathryn Wilma, 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Clark, of Monroe, died last week, a victim of sleeping sickness.

Smothering under the blankets in which she was wrapped, while sleeping on a chair at her mother's bedside, Katherine Marie Sprinkle, 4-month-old daughter of John R. Sprinkle, Grand Rapids, a steamfitter, died last week.

A meeting of the Lake Huron Fruit Belt Horticultural society was held at Almont last week. Professor Taft, horticulturist, and Professor Pettit of the entomology department of the M. A. C. were speakers.

Robert S. Scott, former deputy sheriff, shot in the left arm in April last year by a Negro, will receive $7,000 from Calhoun county. Prosecuting Attorney Clyde C. Cortright received the award on arbitration as fixed by Samuel G. Beattie, of the state industrial accident board.

Dr. R. B. Harkness, of Houghton, state commander of the department of Michigan American Legion, was principal speaker at the thirty-third convention of the legion held at Kalamazoo last week.

LANSING LETTER

(By W. L. Calnon)
LANSING, MICH.

The deadlock over the Warner two-cent gasoline tax bill in the legislature came to a climax last week. This week should tell the fate of the Michigan state road program for the coming two years. Senate amendments to the bill were approved by the house, which also added one more of its own and this was accepted by the senate. The bill as amended would permit counties to participate in the proceeds of the gasoline tax to the extent of twenty percent of the balance after the sinking funds and interest funds for state highway bonds have been deducted. In its final form it was accepted by the senate by a vote of thirty to two, Senators Ropelle and Bahorski, of Detroit, being the only opponents. The situation created by the putting of the bill up to the governor is unique in legislative annals. Gov. Grosbeck has been opposed to the bill from the start, contending that it will tax the motor car owners to a much heavier extent than is necessary for road purposes. Both friends of the governor and opponents of the governor predicted that he would veto the bill. Such a strong sentiment has been worked up in the legislature in favor of a gasoline tax that an outright stopping of the majority by a veto might result in failure of any compromise measure passing at all and this would leave the state highway department without funds for any work in the coming two year period for which the present legislature must provide. It is so doubtful that the measure could command a two-thirds vote in each house to overcome a veto that the expectation is for no attempt in the senate to take such a vote.

Gas Tax Causes Bitterness.

Bitterness developed by the battle over the 2-cent gasoline taxation bill caused a wide variety of threats of other fights to be made on various kinds of legislation. When the senate vote showed the 2-cent tax advantage that they stood practically no show of being able to enact the bill over a veto by the governor, the feeling ran so strong that some were declaring they would stop the proposed new weight tax bill or any other measure that aimed to provide any finances at all for state road construction. That this feeling would not last after the first session was away was the contention of the opponents of the 2-cent bill, but it caused some alarm to the state highway department. Commissioner Frank Rogers, who had been in favor of the gasoline tax, does not want to see his department crippled by being left without funds and was urged by his friends to bet his life in combatting the feeling among his legislative acquaintances. The certainty that the gasoline tax would be made subject to a referendum vote of the people in November, 1924, by motor car makers and allied interests, in the event that it could be put through over the veto by Gov. Grosbeck, was another thing that irritated the advocates of the tax. This feeling resulted in the introduction by Rep. Read, of Kalamazoo, of a bill to amend the constitution so as to require a ten per cent signature of voters of the state in order to submit a legislative measure to a vote. This percentage is just double the one now called for.

Another Road Law Proposed.

A sequel to the gasoline tax bill vote was the introduction of a new road contract bill by Rep. Warner, of Ypsilanti, father of the 2-cent gas tax measure. His bill would require road commissions, if they desired to build roads themselves, to submit sealed bids in competition with the bids of contractors. The county bid, to be ranked as low, would have to be lower than the next lowest responsible bidder by an amount equal to the bond and insurance premiums. In the event of a municipality defaulting on a contract because of insufficient funds the work would have to be re-advertised and re-awarded. Wayne county members who had fought the gasoline tax in the house almost alone also attacked this bill of Rep. Warner, declaring that it favored road contractors. Their attitude was taken following a warning by Gov. Grosbeck to Rep. Warner while the gasoline tax bill was pending in the senate that if it went through no more state road contracts would be allowed to go to legislators.

Appropriation Bills Pruned.

The senate finance committee and the house ways and means committee, which have the last say on appropriation bills before they go to the entire membership of either house for consideration, still have their pruning knives busy on building items. Following their recent slash on the University requests the house committee has submitted more bills. It does not give approval to the request of $1,500,000 asked for Jackson state prison buildings, an item approved in the budget. Other amounts approved include $330,000 for the Newberry state hospital; $240,000 for the Michigan farm colony for epileptics; $250,000 for the Michigan training school for women at Okemos; and $250,000 for enlargement of the Marquette branch prison.

Bandits Hold Up Mail Truck.

St. Louis—Five or six men armed with sawed-off shotguns held up a mail truck in the business section of the city, took a quantity of mail, including nine pouches of registered mail locked the driver and messenger in the cage of the truck and escaped. The truck was on its way from the main postoffice, to a sub-station. The holdup occurred in the heart of the stock brokerage district. Postoffice inspectors said they would be unable to estimate the value of the stolen pouches.

Turkey Flights Own Image.

Delmar, Del.—The story of a turkey gobbler attacking and fighting his image reflected from the side of a highly polished automobile, is told by Mrs. G. C. West, who visited Snow Hill, Md., a few days ago, where the incident occurred. Judging from the length of her stay, the fight must have continued an hour or more. When Mrs. West came out to re-enter her car, the bird was bleeding and exhausted and the side of the car bore the marks of the bird's claws from end to end.

Referendum Will Suspend Law.

Regardless of what action is taken by the governor or the legislature, on the gasoline tax bill, the highway department will be left without funds for perhaps one and a half years. Petitions for a referendum on the law are ready and will be put out under the leadership of the Detroit Automobile club. The referendum vote, without a special statewide election being called, could not be taken until the time of the presidential election in November of next year and the enforcement of the law would be held up automatically until the people registered their approval of it at the polls. The opponents of the law have opened branches of their club in several other cities of the state and declare their intention to organize the more than half million motor car owners of the state to fight any form of gasoline tax. Since the agitation over the Warner bill started 5,000 members have been added to the club in Detroit. Its leaders report, and they are ready to make a bitter fight. The motor car weight tax bill, drawn up as a proposed compromise measure, is marking time in committee while the battle rages over the gasoline tax. It is expected that if the Warner bill does finally fall that the senate will pass the weight tax bill, but the house is apt to refuse to enact it, in reprisal for the failure of the gasoline tax, for which house members voted 80 to 18.

Gardner's Removal Investigated.

The house has ordered its committee on the state industrial school to investigate the removal of Major John F. Gardner as superintendent and the status of the school sites in Lansing and out in the country nearby. The right of the state administrative board to change plans made by the legislature is involved in the inquiry. Several years ago the legislature adopted a bill to take the school from the city of Lansing and build a new one in the country. Part of the city site was sold to the Lansing school board and a high school was erected upon it. Then the administrative board decided that it would rather keep the industrial school in town. Lansing citizens objected to the industrial school remaining alongside their high school and have a case pending in the supreme court to determine if the administrative board can change plans ordered by the legislature. Meanwhile a new bill has passed the senate and is pending in the house that aims to fix the city site anew as the legal place for the industrial school.

Numerous Bills Passed in House.

The house has adopted the Evans bill making the state responsible for the construction and maintenance of trunk line highways; the Ladd bill holding the Michigan Agricultural College mill tax total to $1,000,000; the culver bill providing for a board of examiners for chiropractors; the Eldred bill amending the mothers' pension act; the Farrier bill making the name of the village of Rogers, in Presque Isle county, Rogers City, and the Rasmussen resolution to submit a constitutional amendment providing that all money raised from fines need not go to library funds.

Ninety-Day Session Law Downed.

The senate has twice defeated a proposed constitutional amendment to limit legislative sessions to 90 days in future. It also has defeated once the bill to permit county treasurers to serve more than two consecutive terms. This proposal lost by only two votes and a reconsideration was granted while the effort is being made to convert two or more senators. In one sitting recently the senate adopted 23 bills, all of minor character.

Securities Commissioners Proposed.

Senator Brower, of Jackson, administration leader, has put in a bill to reorganize the state securities commission and amend the blue sky law. It provides for the abolition of the present securities commission and its replacement by a commission with an advisory body of state officers behind him. This is a purely administrative proposal and is one that is apt to invite the attack of all those who feel disgruntled over a gasoline tax veto.

Another Normal School Asked.

Numerous requests before the legislature for the establishment of another state normal school in the northwest section of the lower peninsula have resulted in Rep. Frank Smith, of Luther, submitting a bill that carries an appropriation of $1,000 to pay the expenses of a commission of two senators and three representatives to investigate the need of such a school and report on it to the next legislature.

Brief Notes of Interest.

The state's desire to keep the neighborhood of its new $3,000,000 office building in Lansing free from business that might spoil the looks of the place has resulted in the introduction of a bill by Rep. Woodruff, of Wyandotte, to restrict the neighboring frontage to residence purposes. The bill would give the chancery court power to adjust any loss to owners because of their inability to use their lots for projected business purposes. An undertaker who proposed to place his establishment on a corner near the office building is said to have brought the matter of a restrictive law to the front.

As a Sequel to an Accident on the Dixie Highway in which considerable damage was done to the roadway, Rep. Dawe, of Monroe, has introduced a bill to limit trucks from carrying loads of more than ten tons.

JURY DISAGREES IN FOSTER TRIAL

DEADLOCK ON FIRST BALLOT FAILS TO BE BROKEN AFTER 38 HAD BEEN TAKEN.

WOMAN IS AGAINST CONVICTION

Foster is First Person Prosecuted Under Michigan Criminal Syndicalism Law.

St. Joseph—After being out more than 31 hours without agreeing on a verdict, the jury which tried William Z. Foster, radical labor leader, on a charge of criminal syndicalism, was discharged by Charles E. White last Thursday.

The jury, its members said, stood six for conviction and six for acquittal from the first ballot Wednesday until the last. Thirty-eight ballots in all were taken.

For conviction—Arthur Barker, A. J. Jackson, Vivian G. Ingles, Theodore Drier, Calvin Bachman and Dwight Babcock.

For acquittal—Mrs. Minerva Olson, Theodore Kutzbach, Clement H. Ritzler, A. M. Birdsey, Russell Durm, and Patsy Healy.

Foster and the 31 others, including three women charged with criminal syndicalism for participating in the Bridgman convention, are the first persons to be prosecuted under the Michigan criminal syndicalism law.

All of them demanded separate trials.

Foster is the first Communist charged with criminal syndicalism anywhere in the United States who has not been found guilty at his first trial. It was announced Charles E. Ruthenburg, a witness for the state, and who, like him, was arrested for taking part in the Bridgman convention at Bridgman last August, will go on trial in Berrien circuit court here next Monday. No plans have been made in regard to a re-trial of Foster.

The Foster trial began Monday, March 12, and consumed 19 court days, no sessions having been held Saturdays.

CUSTER HOSPITAL WORK BEGUN

Custer Hospital Work Begun. Largest Institution of Its Kind

Battle Creek—Work on the site of the new government hospital at Camp Custer has been started. The contract calls for the erection of 31 buildings at a cost of $2,174,680. The task must be completed before July 6, 1924, or a forfeiture must be paid for every day thereafter.

The site of the hospital is the highest portion of the camp and in winter served as the remount station. The buildings are to be arranged in a double semi-circular row, the administration building to be in the center. All are to be constructed of reinforced concrete and brick and fire-proof throughout.

Buildings besides the administration building, are enumerated as follows: Main buildings, tubercular and convalescent cottages, buildings for disturbed patients, recreation buildings, mess and food kitchens, continued treatment quarters, five buildings for double staff quarters, commanding officers' quarters and those for nurses and female attendants, vocational shops, garage and shops, storerooms, laundry and refrigeration plant.

Patients from all of the eighth district will be treated here. This includes Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin.

It is to be the largest hospital in the entire country. Spanish war and Philippine insurrection veterans are to be cared for here as well as all patients of the veteran's bureau.

BOND INCREASE FOR FAIR O.K'D

Provision for Improvements Made on Exhibit's Own Security.

Lansing—The Michigan State Fair of Detroit, was authorized to increase its bonded indebtedness above $380,000 to an amount necessary to take care of improvement needs, through the concurrence by the house of representatives Thursday, in amendments the senate attached to the Rowe fair premium bill.

The improvements desired include $150,000 for a sheep and swine building; $28,000 for sewers and pavements; $40,000 to heat the coliseum; $10,000 for a new machinery hall and $100,000 for additions to the grand stand. All of the work will not be undertaken at once.

To Tax "Fat" People.

Stockholm—Sweden is about to tax all its people who weigh more than 200 pounds for every pound of weight above that figure in order to obtain funds for new pavements, water-works, parks and other civic improvements. A fraction of a pound will count as a whole pound, it is said. Tax experts in Sweden say that the population already has been taxed as heavily as it deserves, with one exception—fat folk. It is claimed they wear out the sidewalks.

Urges Sending Italians to Canada.

Rome—Premier Mussolini received Signorina Italia Garabaldi, granddaughter of the Italian liberator, who is interested in a plan for Italian emigration to Canada which might absorb the emigrants prevented from entering the United States, because of the filled quota for Italy. Signorina Garabaldi showed Signor Mussolini messages she had received from prominent persons in Canada dealing with her project and also offers of large tracts of land in Canada for colonization purposes.

Hides Money in Shoe, Burns Up.

Washington—Hospitality, hot coffee and a late call by neighbors cost Mrs. Katie Dirashin more than $300. She and her husband have a grocery store. Their receipts Saturday were fairly large and Mrs. Dirashin put them under the burners in her gas stove for safety. She forgot the money was there when two friends called and did not remember about it until she put on the coffee pot, lighted the flame and was startled by a cloud of smoke. Nothing was left except a little silver in change.

Two-headed Canary Has 3 Legs.

Petersburg—A two-headed canary with three legs, a bird not dissimilar except in size, say those who have seen it, to the mythical two-headed eagle, was hatched in the aviary of Robert D. Thompson. "Doing well but can't be disturbed," was the statement of Mrs. Thompson on the freak's condition made to those who asked to see it at the Thompson residence. The Thompsons are amateur canary raisers and the unusual bird is one of three hatched at the same time by one of their mated birds.

OBEDIAH GARDNER

Washington—Announcement of the resignation, effective April 15, from the International Joint Commission of former Senator Obediah Gardner of Maine, his chairman, was made after its semi-annual session. The announcement was made by Gardner. Gardner has served nearly 10 years on the commission, most of the time as chairman and during its important investigations of the St. Lawrence and other boundary water questions.

Immigrant Quota Increased.

Washington—A temporary order permitting the entry of Russian immigrants as a part of the quota assigned to Bessarabia under the United States immigration laws, was announced by the labor department.

"Wild Trains" Foil French.

Paris—Imitating the methods of the Irish Republicans, the Germans successfully dispatched nine trains without engineers from Friedrichshafen, in unoccupied Germany, in the direction of Wesel, according to reports received here.

Advocates "Blue Sunday"

Sydney, N. S. W.—Condemnation of sports and other amusements on Sundays and a plea for a most Christian observance for the Sabbath were contained in a manifesto just issued by the several church organizations of New South Wales.

Heavy Snow Covers North Ontario.

Toronto—The heaviest fall of snow in many years mantled Northern Ontario last week, dispelling hope of a spring thaw. Winter reassured itself all along the north shores of Lakes Superior and Huron, extending its grip back over the mining regions.

Wants Oklahoma Divided.

Oklahoma City, Okla.—Oklahoma would be divided into two separate states under a resolution, introduced in the house last week, by F. M. Boyer, Tulsa county. A line running from north to south through the center of Oklahoma would mark the boundaries of the new states.

Chicken and Egg Output Gains.

Washington—More chickens were raised and more eggs produced last year than in the year before, but their farm value was not so great. The combined farm value of chickens raised and eggs produced was estimated at $854,267,000, by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Old Statute Saves Man.

Pittsburgh—An old Pennsylvania law, providing that a person cannot be held for murder if the victim lives more than a year and a day after the assault, saved Ignatz Jendzieski from facing that charge when a coroner's jury considered the case. Michael Ciouan died 16 months after he was shot by Jendzieski.

Dies Day Before 112th Birthday.

Ville Platte, La.—Auguste Jean-sonne, who would have been 112 years old, died here as a result of complications following an attack of influenza. He was the father of 23 children, of whom 17 are living, the eldest being 93. He is survived by 187 grandchildren, one of whom is 76 years old. There are many great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren.

Africans Drop Savage Trails.

New York—Natives of the Cameroons, on the west coast of Africa, are being won away from the traditions of their life in the bush and from their savage instincts and are being educated to the point where their industrial and agricultural development may have international significance, says a report made to the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions last week.

Many Killed and Injured in Tornado.

Alexandria, La.—The death toll as a result of the tornado which last week swept Alexandria and Pineville, was placed at 17. A check by authorities developed that undertaking establishments here had the bodies of 13 white victims and four Negroes. Sixty were injured, more than 30 of whom are in the United States Veterans' Hospital near Pineville. Property damage was placed at $500,000.

Fearful Mountain Will Drop.

Mount Carmel, Pa.—The surface of the Black Diamond mountain is steadily sinking as the anthracite coal in the Old Black Diamond workings burns, and it is feared that eventually the side of the mountain may drop. The fire has been raging in the mountain for 12 years and many tons of coal are consumed daily. The fire in Summit Hill mine has been raging for 70 years, spreading from shaft to shaft and consuming millions of tons of hard coal every year.

Priceless Documents Neglected.

The original message of President Monroe, embodying the Monroe doctrine, was found, together with many other valuable documents, in a basement room under the capitol terrace. The valuable papers were packed away in a wooden file, partly rotted and covered with cobwebs. The original draft of the bill establishing the Judiciary of the United States, a paper-backed volume in the handwriting of Samuel E. Otis, secretary of the first senate, containing the only record of the enrolled bills presented in the first session of congress, and a bill providing for the admission of Kentucky into the Union were also found. Priceless documents decaying away in storage rooms, all legible but so brittle that pages break in handling.

THE PIG PEN

"Grunt, grunt," said Porky Pig, "how nice it does seem to have a friendly gathering in a pig pen. There is really no place like home after all."
"Well," said Miss Ham, "you speak as though a gathering in the pig pen were very unusual."
"We are here all of the time except during the winter when we are indoors and in the barn."
"What do you mean by speaking as though it were so unusual to be together in the pig pen?"
"Well," said Grandfather Porky Pig, "it just came over me what a nice home pen we have."
"You know every one now and again suddenly appreciates their home."
"At least I think they each and all do. Perhaps they have lived in it for ages and ages, but all of a sudden they see what a nice home it is."
"And that is the way I have been feeling about my home. Ah yes, I have been feeling there really was nothing in this world like the nice pig pen."
"And I have been writing a lovely song about it."
"How do you know it is a lovely song?" asked Miss Ham. "Has anyone told you so?"
"No," said Porky, "but I think the subject is a lovely one. It is called 'The Home Pig Pen.'"
"Well," said Miss Ham, "it has a nice title. You'd better let me hear your song and then I will tell you what I think about it."
"My opinion, I am sure, will be of value to you."
"I don't know," said Porky, "for if you don't like it I cannot think it will make much difference to me. Of course your opinion may disappoint me, but I do not believe it will do much else to me."
"And I don't know whether it will be of value to me if you like it. I am not sure whether your opinion will really make so great a difference, but I may as well try it on you."
"Ah, Porky," said Miss Ham, "you do not realize what a good critic I am and that means that I am one who can help you and who can tell you what is good and what is not."
"Well, go on with your song anyway. I will listen to you and tell you what I think and it will help you whether you realize it or not."
"So you have said, so you have said," agreed Porky. "Well, grunt, grunt, I will sing my song. I am eager to sing it and hear how it sounds myself."
"Yes," said Miss Ham, "I notice you are. You are quite fond of your own pig ideas I've always noticed. But go on, go on, I will listen."
Porky Pig grunted to himself that he would be lucky if he could get through it all before Miss Ham spoke again. But at least all the other pigs were listening as requested.

"It Has a Nice Title."

In his squealing voice, he sang this song:

We may wander, we may roam,
But there is no place like home.
Other poets have said the same,
And saying this have won much fame.

But I care not if I don't win glory,
And I care not if it's all an old story.
For the fact remains, I speak what's true,
And that is always right to do.

Oh, the home pig pen, the home pig pen
I like to say it again and again.
It is my joy, the joy of my heart,
Its mud is the choicest in my part.

I like it here, oh, I like it here,
It's my home pig pen which is oh, so dear.
Let me grunt, let me grunt, let me grunt
My joy.

I'm a lucky pig, as some say, "Oh Boy!"
Yes, I'm lucky indeed, squeal, squeal,
My heart with happiness I can feel
Thumping pleasure and pounding with delight.

Yes, in the pig pen I'm happy by day or
by night.
Grunt, grunt, grunt, the home pig pen,
I love it, I love it, let me say it again.

"Well," said Miss Ham, as Porky finished, "you won't be known forever and a day as a great poet, nor will people say that you are a coming poet, but it's a poem with good ideas. Porky, good ideas, squeal, squeal!"

And all the other pigs agreed with her.

Where?

"Mamma, what makes the street car go?" loudly piped small Joan, much to the amusement of the passengers on the street car. Her mother quietly replied that the electricity made the street car go. While Joan twisted about in her seat turning this unenlightening answer over in her mind, the car came to a stop.

"But, mamma!" she said, still puzzled, "where does the electricity go when the street car stops?"

For Little Girls.

The three-piece dress for little girls expresses itself in favor of the box coat and a light worsted crepe adapts itself splendidly to the practical fashioning of these models. Printed Rosannas are employed as inserted trimming and the bodices are introduced in a profusion of plain and printed fabrics.

Printed Brocades.

Frocks Smack of the Orient;

Express the Mode Supreme

Ever since the widely heralded discovery of King Tut-Ankh-Amen's tomb, fashion's pilgrims have been wending their way to Egypt for ideas, if not literally at least figuratively. As a result we are in the throes of an enthusiasm for modes Egyptian, and stylists are carrying the fad to almost an extreme.

Printed silks especially reflect this vogue in characteristic designs made up of strange hieroglyphics, camels and human figures in weird Egyptian take the form of delicate outline in floral patterns and scrolls, or they depict very large roses, fruits and foliage stenciled, as it were, in solid colors and all-over patterns.

What an elusive intangible quality is style, and yet what a price it commands. How we dote on the word and consider the goal of our ambition in matters of dress achieved if our critics pronounce our hat or gown or costume entire as having "lots of style."

An Out-of-the-Ordinary Gown.

costume. That the artistry of the modern designer is equal to the occasion, is evidenced in the very charming silk frock herewith pictured. This out-of-the-ordinary gown is typical of the new styles which are crowding in multi-colored splendor before us. Note the camel conspicuously printed as the piece de resistance of this Egyptian design.

However, there is no monopoly of

There is a certain air of distinction, style if you please, about the three-piece suit with the three-quarter-length coat. These long coats of slender line are of direct appeal to a patrician clientele. The flapper age may choose its short flare jacket of youthful lines, but those of exclusive mode know the aristocratic grace of long slender lines. Three-piece suits of this type, that is with coats reaching below the knees, are fashion's latest contribution to the season's costume successes.

Not only do the "lines" of the suit count but elegance of fabric is also a factor in the formal suit frock, scheduled for future triumph. A suit which will appeal to most discriminating taste is the subject of the accompanying illustration. It is fashioned of a pure silk hestrich striped ratine, a material prominent among the handsomest novelty weaves. With the coat removed, one is clad in a charming one-piece straight-lined frock.

There is a perfect mania for topping out the one-piece dress, under the long coat with paisley and tapestry patterned silks. This gives the advantage of a conservative smart suit until the coat is removed, when presto!

Will Appeal to Most Discriminating Taste.

Egyptian motifs, for many patterns woven or printed in Chinese or Japanese themes enrich modern fabrics. Kashmyr designs and square or round geometrical patterns in intricate all-over effects and in refined artistic color bleedings are winning foremost favor of discriminating taste. Batik, hand tie-dyed or printed in semblance thereof, is also among the leading ideas in novelty silks, especially for blouses, parasols and accessories.

Summer days will bring out scores of frocks whose silken fabric will stress black or colored patterns on white backgrounds. These traceries a frock of ravishing color and design reveals itself.

Arab brown, cocoa, rust, gray and navy are favorite colors for these fashionable suit-frocks whose claim to distinction is verified in the below-the-knee-length coats. Not infrequently one notes an introduction of tucks throughout the costume.

Declares Tanlac Overcame Rheumatism and Stomach Trouble, Restoring Full Vigor.

"Tanalac built me up twenty pounds, and I am as happy over my new health as my little boy was over his Christmas toys," declared Mrs. Mary Snyder, 838 Estes St., Charlottesville, Va. "For two years I suffered from stomach trouble, rheumatism and a nervous, run-down condition. I was almost a skeleton and got to the point where, when I went to bed nights, I wondered if I would be able to get up in the morning. Rheumatism in my shoulders was so painful, and I was so thin and weak that I did little of anything except try to get well."

"I was in despair when I started taking Tanlac, but now my troubles are all gone and I am as healthy and happy as I could wish to be. Tanlac has earned my undying gratitude."

Tanalac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35 million bottles sold.—Advertisement.

OLD FOLKS GET WORST COUGHS HARD TO STOP

Ordinary Remedies Too Weak to Reach a Stubborn, Persistent Cough.

AN OLD SOLDIER SAYS HYPO-COD WILL DO IT

"I had such a bad cough I couldn't lie down and would sit up in a chair all night so I could breathe. I guess I would have had that old cough yet and be done up with it this winter if I hadn't read an advertisement in the newspaper about Earle's Hypo-Cod. Of course I am an old soldier, now past 70 years of age, and it takes a powerful medicine to help me. But after I had taken several bottles I was amazed and delighted beyond belief at results."

"I'm not scholar enough to write a testimonial, but I know when a medicine does what they claim it will do and Hypo-Cod does that alright," declared Mr. D. McCarty, Chaplin, Mich.

Old folks need a medicine smooth and nice enough to take to agree with a weak stomach and it must be powerful enough to reach the spot. When a person gets along in years it takes a more powerful medicine, for their system doesn't respond to medicine like when they were younger.

Earle's Hypo-Cod is the most powerful, nice-tasting, modern tonic made, and naturally does the work done and works sooner than weaker, old-fashioned preparations. It is not expensive. Works quick. Save time. Avoid substitutes. Drop in at the drug store for Hypo-Cod today.—Advertisement.

"Oh, yes," returned the little one quickly, "I remember him now. He undertook my grandma."—Boston Evening Transcript.

FARM BUREAU NOTES.

What To Do Next.

The successful farmer will work into his plans the suggestions of last week. I earnestly hope that those well-meaning suggestions about seed corn, seed oats and seed potatoes, and their proper treatment, will find a welcome reception in the minds, and the practice, of every Crawford County farmer.

The Potato Show.

Northwestern Michigan will hold a potato show in Gaylord in November. I want some Crawford County farmers, of spunk and spirit, to raise some potatoes fit to be shown in that show. This show will be an eye-opener to all. To some it will be a wonder that such beautiful potatoes can be grown. To others a standard of excellence by which to measure their own crop. Some men who think that they are wonderful farmers, are going to get a jolt when they measure what they can do along side what the other fellow does. Potatoes fit to be shown at the Gaylord show are not going to be raised from scrub seed by scrub methods.

Live wire Crawford County farmers, who like to grow potatoes, will need to get some real seed, certified seed, treat it right, tend it right or they are going to be away out of the running. A show like this is a place where men put up or shut up. Who's got the spunk to raise some winners for the show?

Get Some Alfalfa.

This wonderful feed deserves to be diligently sought after. Oh yes, you can grow it. Go to it. Get Grimm seed; inoculate it; put it on the ground you manured for corn last spring. Drag in 200 pounds acid phosphate ahead of the seed, and away you go.

If Mr. R. Hanson can grow it east of the band mill, on that light soil; if we can grow it on the poor sand of the State Farm, you can certainly grow it.

No other hay has its splendid qualities. All who have tried alfalfa testify to its superior value. Calling the feed value of timothy, 3 clover's feed value is 7; alfalfa's 11.

What Does Professor Frazer Call It? Prof. W. J. Frazer, 'live-wire' in dairying at University of Illinois calls it "Timothy in Field, and Thief in Manger." He hit the bull's eye, plunk in the center. He has been running a long series of experiments with feeds.

This is what he found out. Dare you read it? That is evidence enough for me. It has been for thousands of open minded farmers. The change from one kind of a hay crop to another kind can make all the difference in the world.

Oh, of course, if you are bound not to be convinced; don't want to progress; don't want to do any different; don't want to move forward; don't want anyone to bother you with anything like this, I might as well save my breath.

A survey of 680 dairy farms in the most intensive dairy section of Northern Illinois, showed that, as they raised less timothy and more alfalfa, the labor income (profits) increased from $466 to $960—more than 100 per cent.

Cows must have an abundance of protein to produce milk heavily. Why deliberately spend such a large part of the income from the cow in buying protein concentrates (bean, cottonseed meal, linseed meal) when you can grow an equivalent amount? Raise alfalfa and have protein in your hay mow.

Not Hot Air.

This is not hot air. This protein talk is the straight stuff that any man's got to come to if he wants to get anything worthwhile out of cows. And what nearer business is there than intelligent dairying.

Authorities say that the alfalfa hay from an acre contains nearly three (3) times the total feed value and (9) times as much protein as an acre of timothy. Besides, alfalfa is more palatable to the cow than timothy, and also keeps the cow's system in much better physical tone.

I'm trying to steer things so that we shall become a farming community of the most desirable kind—a community of intelligent, prosperous dairyman; for Prosperity Follows the Dairy Cow. Timothy hay is not to be considered at all as a dairy crop.

Blue grass pasture makes a still poorer showing of total nutrients.

An acre of clover hay, while excellent in quality, is greatly lacking in quantity, having only half the total feed value, and only a third the protein produced by an acre of alfalfa. Protein is the highest priced element in dairy feeds. Don't buy it. Grow it.

The crops grown on an acre should produce a large amount of suitable material for making milk.

Alfalfa and corn produce from two to four times as much digestible nutrients per acre as any other crop commonly raised. You can double the milk production per acre by raising these crops.

Vetch and Oat Hay. If you have a piece of fertile soil, sow winter vetch with oats. Cut for hay, as substitute, until you get enough acreage into alfalfa.

Don't put all your eggs into one basket. Have several things coming for winter hay. Sow soy beans which make a hay highly rich in protein. At corn planting time drill in with all spouts of grain drill, open; or, drill in single rows and cultivate. Cut latter part of August.

A good many cows in the county must have thanked me for crowding soy beans upon their owners last spring. If it had not been for the soy bean hay from the 4000 pounds of seed I induced farmers to use, I think it would have been necessary to kill a lot of cows here this winter "to save their lives."

Soy Beans and Millet. Soy beans and millet, on a piece of good soil, make dandy feed.

Say, you are not planning on that marsh hay deal again are you?

Soy Beans to Plow In. The man who is a real farmer wants to plow something under. For a quick crop, use soy beans. Drill a bushel to the acre, with all spouts of grain drill open. Plow under when in blossom.

Sow same soil at once to vetch and rye. Plow under in spring of 1924, and believe me, you have got a start for corn; especially, if, just before that 1924 corn is planted, 200 pounds acid phosphate (cost about $2) are dragged in.

Vetch and Rye for Soil's Sake. Up in my office I have 7 or 8 bushels of vetch and rye, grown on the State Farm, that should be sown by progressive farmers, bright and early this spring, to be plowed under this fall, and the same soil be re-seeded at once to vetch and rye, to be plowed under in spring of 1924, all for the soil's sake.

The men who've got the gumption to do this, are going to buy this seed of me at a bargain and are going to be in line for a corn crop of 1924 "what am."

Call on the county agent when in town. Make yourself comfortable in my little office; and, while you smoke, we will plan some good things.

Bring your wife up, too.

TEACHERS' EXAMINATION.

On April 25, 26, 27 and 28, 1923 there will be held in the Court House in Grayling a Teachers' Examination for Crawford County. At this time teachers may write for First, Second and Third Grade certificates.

John W. Payne, Commissioner of Schools.

Act 302 of the Public Acts of 1921 provides in part as follows:

"In all such examinations (county teachers' examinations) two sets of questions shall be prepared in subjects ordinarily written on Saturday, one of which sets shall be available for use on Wednesday by applicants who observe Saturday as their Sabbath."

The subjects written on Saturday are as follows: Algebra, Botany, General History, and Physics. Questions on these subjects for those candidates who may write on Wednesday will be sent to you. It will be necessary, therefore, to hold the teachers' examination on Wednesday as well as on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

Only the candidates who observe Saturday as their Sabbath are entitled to write the Saturday subjects on Wednesday. All other candidates must write their examination on Thursday, Friday and Saturday in accordance with the schedule furnished for the examination.

LAST CHANCE TO GET FREE GOV'T. GARDEN SEEDS.

Congressman Woodruff of this District has available now for immediate distribution the usual annual allotment of Government free vegetable and flower seeds.

The vegetable seeds are suitable for small lots especially and include cucumber, onion, lettuce, beet, peas and other varieties. The flower seeds are desirable for yard decorative purposes and include such varieties as poppy, zinnia, nasturtium, mignonette, crocus, alyssum, dianthus and eschscholtzia.

As long as the supply lasts the Congressman will be glad to forward upon request a small supply of the above sufficient to plant the average household garden and flower bed. Send your request to Hon. Roy O. Woodruff, Room 185 House Office Building, Washington, D. C., promptly and the seeds will be sent you by return mail.

This is probably the last chance to obtain free Government seeds, as Congress will not appropriate money for this purpose next year, thereby establishing a precedent that is likely to be followed in the future.

The Circuit Court for the County of Crawford in Chancery.

Flora B. Shellenberger, an infant, by Lena M. Price, as next friend, vs.

Floyd W. Shellenberger Defendant.

Suit pending in the Circuit Court or Crawford County, in Chancery, on the thirty-first day of March, A. D. 1923, at the Village of Grayling in said County of Crawford.

It satisfactorily appearing to the court by affidavit on file that a chancery summons has been duly issued out of and under the seal of said court, for the appearance of said defendant therein, and that the same could not be served on the defendant because after diligent search and inquiry it could not be ascertained in what state or country the said defendant resides, or the whereabouts of said defendant learned, and that the said chancery summons has been returned by the Sheriff of said county with his certificate thereon endorsed that, after diligent search and inquiry, he was unable to find the said defendant in the State of Michigan, on or before the return day of said summons, on motion of Homer L. Fitch, attorney for the plaintiff, IT IS ORDERED, that the defendant, Floyd W. Shellenberger, cause his appearance to be entered in this cause within three months after the date of this order, and in case of his appearance that he cause his answer to the plaintiff's bill of complaint to be filed, and a copy thereof served on plaintiff's attorney within fifteen days after service on him of a copy of said bill, and notice of this order, and that in default thereof served on plaintiff's attorney by said defendant.

And on like motion, IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, that within twenty days after the date hereof, the plaintiff cause a notice of this order to be published in the Crawford Avalanche, a newspaper, printed, published and circulating in said County of Crawford, and that such publication be continued at least once in each week, for six weeks in succession, or that he cause a copy of this order to be personally served upon said defendant, at least twenty days before the time above prescribed for his appearance.
